News From Your TOWN HALL

There are some 4,000 foreign laborers on Glades farms brought under agreements making our federal government responsible for their well being.

There've been a small percentage of those involved in our courts or tangled with our law and some are "making time" in penal institutions as proof that they are subject to our laws.

Some farmers say these laborers are needed and how to high heaven when they are temporarily removed. What if all are suddenly removed?

City commissioners might well review their own city charter pertaining to police and study the agreements between the several foreign governments and our own, so that they prepared for contingencies.

Hurricane Causes End Of Drouth Over Wide Area

An unexpected mild hurricane traveled from the South Gulf waters across Central Florida and out toward New England states over the week end, and it brought some high wind and much rain did not do a great deal of damage in Florida, as it traveled about the same course of the more disastrous storm of last fall. The storm struck the mainland north of Tampa and left near Tusculum.

Without doubt this storm was the factor which helped break the long and costly Florida drought and brought up the long prayer for rains to refresh vegetation and replenish the water supplies.

General rains were reported all over Florida, with the heaviest downfall in Tampa and West Palm Beach where 10 inches of rain fell in three days. Here in the Glades section around eight inches fell from Friday to Sunday night, not too much in the opinion of farming people, as the muck land soaked up a great deal of the moisture, but much also came into dry ditches and drainage systems, and even the big lake showed an increased level by the first of the week.

Local farmers thought the rain fall was a million dollar one. At least it did have the effect of laying the permeating dust and clearing up the atmosphere.

Report from the citrus belt in the central portion of the state is to the effect that the storm did not do an excessive amount of damage to the growing crop beyond whipping the trees partly and possibly scarring up some of the fruit. This is a point of view which will be comparatively slight in comparison to that done in last October's gale.

No Likee Germans Or Japs Says An Army Sergeant

There is one American army sergeant who does not nor never will like the German opponents which he fought, and does not think he will have any different attitude against the Japanese should he face them in combat, but that is Jimmie Harris now home here on a furlough.

Before his fellow Lion club members he gave a most interesting impromptu talk, based on questions asked by the listeners, being some something of a ditty line of information given by him in a recent Herald article.

From questions shot at him, Jimmie brought out these additional facts: That the Germans think that the Japanese are only one man to get him out of the way while a wounded man requires about 15 service people to save him, and he also gives him from further participation in battles.

Gen. Boothe Says Quit Wiring The Congress, No Use

Stuffed Shirt Says He Is Running The Job And He Does

With thousands of foreign farm laborers at Camp Murphy being kept at the expense of the government waiting to find some place to send them General Boothe has warned persons to quit bothering the congressmen about his order to take away all the laborers except 56 from the Glades where they are working. The General seems so far to be able to demonstrate the futility of securing sensible consideration of the Glades problem by his department.

Pleasant Mr. Spencer, Mr. DeBuck and other assistants have been unsuccessful in changing the General's decision.

The General takes the position that the local labor boys report so many domestic affairs about that they do not need any. A local labor union usually has a family, all of whom are in the harvesting hands and they need harvest hands while here we need only.

Lions Install New Corps Of Officers

Past District Governor "Bob" Black, West Palm Beach, came out to the Lion club dinner Wednesday, and after an excellent talk, installed and instructed the new officers of the club for the coming year. He also highly complimented the club on its past year's achievements.

The officers who were empowered with official functions were as follows: President, W. P. Risk; vice presidents, Ralph Kinney and W. W. Weeks; secretary, J. K. Baker; treasurer, Frank Holson; and immediate past president, D. C. DeLaven. The latter was also presented with a past president's button.

The club decided to do away with its usual dinner, July 4, and instead, give a family outing and fish fry on the St. Lucie canal near Indiantown, the evening meal to be served at six o'clock. Committee on arrangements for the outing being Lions Sample, Kirk and Hodges.

Belle Glade Has Crack Ball Team

It may not be known to most of Belle Glade citizens that the town possesses one of the best colored basketball teams in South Florida, capable of playing with the crack negro teams of the entire East Coast region. The team has an outstanding record this season, winning most of its games. If several of the local players had white instead of black skins, they would be playing in white professional ball.

Makes Business Call Here

Hon. Colin English, state superintendent of Public Instruction, of Tallahassee while making a swing about the state, was a visitor in Belle Glade, Monday, and while here consulted with associates.

Named As Depositories

Palm Beach county commission has named always have a considerable amount of money on hand, and for the safe handling of same, county depositories are named. The commissioners have named Florida National Bank at Belle Glade and the Bank of Palatka as two of such depositories.

The club decided to do away with its usual dinner, July 4, and instead, give a family outing and fish fry on the St. Lucie canal near Indiantown, the evening meal to be served at six o'clock. Committee on arrangements for the outing being Lions Sample, Kirk and Hodges.

Two South Bay Packing Houses Changes Ownership

E. R. Butler Purchases the Interest of Partners Grows Plant

The South Bay Growers & Distributors, organized originally by the late A. O. Walker and N. N. Sturling, which was purchased by E. R. Butler of New York, Forest Norton and Frank Anderson, has by a recent transaction passed into the absolute control of Mr. Butler.

Mr. Butler has leased the top floor of Griffith hotel and will make his home in South Bay and operate the business personally. Besides the packing house, pre-cooling plant and all equipment in the plant, Mr. Butler is also planning on bringing a water line from the lake to provide the necessary water for the plant. The building now covers a ground space of 60x300 feet and is one of the largest fully equipped plants on this side of the lake.

Mr. Anderson in reviewing this season stated that it was one of the best seasons they have had in six years of operation. He stated that 80,000 hampers of beans were sent to the canneries without grading and that 250,000 hampers of graded snap beans passed through the plant.

He expressed the opinion that this section of the Glades was due for a big expansion and that the only thing holding it back was the lack of good country roads; but that hundreds of acres of land just as good lying between the lake and the Bolo canal which has not as yet been put into cultivation because of the lack of roads to get to and from the land. Once the roads are secured the land will rapidly be put into cultivation.

Mr. Anderson and Mr. Norton have purchased the J. S. Aly parking house and will continue their operations from the new site.

Norman Haslip Joins Fritz Stein's Force

Looking forward to the future good of his crops and the eradication of bugs and pests on same, Fritz Stein reports that starting July 1, Norman Haslip will become a member of his farm organization. Haslip for the past two years has been the "bug and insect" specialist at the Everglades Experiment station, where he had a good record of excellent service.

Stein says, "These darn plant pests are educated, and it is going to take an educational worker to find the way to kill them off and end their depredations on the crops, and I know no one more capable of this than Norman Haslip. He is a man who has brought up his own children, and he has better make good on the job."

It is reported that one of the Gainesville station staff members will be placed in charge of the station work carried on by Mr. Haslip. Haslip had placed his resignation in the hands of Dr. R. V. Allison for acceptance.

Local Masons Have Andrew Taylor Night

Under a special dispensation from the Most Worshipful Grand Master of Florida, Belle Glade Lodge No. 273, F. and A. M. held a special communication, which well might have been termed a going away party for George Andrew Taylor, Jr., for the young army lieutenant was the subject of the evening's program.

First he was honored by being made a Master Mason, presented with particular Masonic literature, and by way of waiver of regulation, also a white land skin apron. His father, George Taylor, Sr., also was given the honor of reading to the son the special military charge of the order. Taylor is the third service man to be given Masonic honors in membership in the local lodge.

Worshipful Master Lon Berner, although a long time member and officer, has never been presented with a white apron and as a result of his work in the Master's degree, the lodge also voted him one of the coveted white aprons.

DeMolays To Take Two Months Vacation

At the Tuesday evening session of Lake Okchobee Board DeMolay it was decided that a two month vacation period would be observed, the next meeting to be held September 10. Committees were named for chapter solicitation and for a public hearing to be held early in September, the latter to be a benefit affair to raise funds to secure robes and regalia for the chapter use.

It was announced that three chapter members, Lester Hatten, Dennis Wilson and Bobby Greer would soon be leaving to join Uncle Sam's service forces.

Congress Disregards Florida Growers In Reciprocal Tariff

Lake Waters Reached Lowest Mark in Years

I. I. Taton, secretary-treasurer of the South Shore Drainage District since 1935 and associated with the district since 1935, on a trip to the Glades recently stated that the Lake went to an all time low in its time last week just before the rains started, when it registered officially 11.5 feet. He said the lowest he recalled was in the early thirties when it went to 13 feet one day winter.

The last several years have been unusually dry years and the high land around the Lake has suffered because of the excessive subsidence of the soil. Excessive drainage of the loose muck soils due to drought and pumping of the underground water in excessive amount has caused much greater subsidence of the soil than would have been the case had the natural water table been permitted to remain to conserve the soil.

According to the experts unless the practice of over drainage of the Everglades is checked and a wiser conservation of the water tables is put into effect it will result in the complete destruction of the rich Everglades muck soils within a couple of generations and it may well be that those who pioneered the Everglades and helped develop the country will also live to see this rich and fertile land destroyed by the greed and shortsightedness of man.

This week the Everglades experienced the first downpour of rain in many months and the excessive soil and vegetation absorbed the long desired moisture which, was so necessary to life and vigor. Yet so dry was the soil that even with all the rainfall which has fallen the ground is still dry a few inches under the top layers.

First he was honored by being made a Master Mason, presented with particular Masonic literature, and by way of waiver of regulation, also a white land skin apron. His father, George Taylor, Sr., also was given the honor of reading to the son the special military charge of the order. Buy More "E" Bonds Says Chairman Puckett

Lee Puckett, chairman of the Glades Seventh War Bond sales drive, said that all sales of bonds made up to July 7, will be included in the present drive, and while recent sales not reported, the drive has brought up sales considerably, it is not near enough to meet the expected half million quota from this area.

Despite 100 Hearings Of Experts Interted Persons Tariff Cut

L. L. Stuckey of Palatka, now chairman of the Florida Veterans' committee, expressed the appreciation of Florida growers for the stand taken by Congressman Cannon, Peterson and Rogers against the reciprocal trade treaty extension and for their recognition of the foreign competition problem that confronts Florida and other winter vegetable growers.

"The vegetable business is one of the largest industries now in the state of Florida," Stuckey stated. "It is one of the backbone industries that gives employment directly or indirectly to thousands of people, allied industries, such as crate mills, fertilizer plants and transportation companies. It represents a large and growing industry annually. This industry is not operating on a basis of exploiting the markets in the United States because the very nature of the commodities, in conjunction with their perishability, (Continued on page 6)

Government Red Tape Cut To Get Appropriations

After working and waiting for more than a year to get priority releases for two Glades projects, connected with the new ramie ranch promotions, the WPB at Washington took up the matter across with the necessary grants, so the work will be started in the very near future on these projects.

Congressman Dwight Rogers took quite a part in securing these releases and was the official spokesman for the project to the promoting companies.

The Florida Ramie Products company and the Newport Industries are the ones to whom the priority releases were granted. The first is to have material releases for building and machinery for its proposed plant in Glades of $300,000 and a $250,000 amount goes to the Newport concern for its Palatka plant.

Readers of the Herald will recall that the Florida Ramie corporation acquired 5,000 acres of land for its promotion, and also entered into contract to lease and process the ramie growing on the State Prison farm of 400 acres.

The Newport concern has ranch lands over on the Palm Beach road south of Canal Point, and is a joint venture by Tallahassee promoters and the United States Sugar corporation. Just where the location for the new plant is, he is yet unannounced but they will be the start of a vast expansion program which may reach a million dollar expenditure.

OBSERVATION and Comment

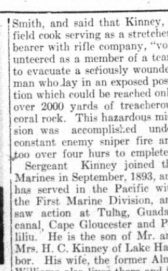

By John M. Gladhill

Well, at last a soaking rainfall came to the Everglades region to refresh the ground, vegetation and people. The drought has been long and so severe that it will require many such rains to bring the lake, streams, canals and irrigation ditches up to normal stages.

We always thought that side-walks were built for the comfort and safety of pedestrians in all types of weather. However when rain does fall in Belle Glade, there are sections of the sidewalks on Man and State streets which are filled with inches of captured water, and one has to take care to avoid it. Does look as if this condition could be easily remedied.

SERVICE MEN who FIGHT and WRITE

SGT. HARDY C. KINNEY. For heroic achievement in action as a stretcher-bearer on Peleliu, Marine Sergeant Hardy C. Kinney, Jr. of Lake Harbor, Fla., was awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

Smith, and said that Kinney, a field cook serving as a stretcher-bearer with rifle company, "volunteered as a member of a team to evacuate a seriously wounded man who lay in an exposed position which could be reached only over 2,000 yards of treacherous coral rock. This hazardous action was accomplished under constant enemy sniper fire and over four miles to complete."

Sergeant Kinney joined the Marines in September, 1933, and has served in the Pacific with the First Marine Division, and saw action at Tulagi, Guadalcanal, Cape Gloucester and Peleliu. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kinney of Lake Harbor. His wife, the former Alma Williams also lives there and he has a sister, Mrs. W. P. Hill, Jr., who resides in Belle Glade.

and Mrs. Roberts visited friends here Friday. He will report to Camp Lee this week for assignment to duty. Prior to entering the service, Lieutenant Roberts held the position of manager at Camp Osceola. After attending an army administration school in Texas, he was stationed in England for a year, then was selected for O. C. S. and returned to the states in February.

LT. BUSTER WILLIS. Buster writes that he is on a Pacific Island in Japan's front door. He is the guy who wanted action. Well, I've certainly found it in large quantities. I have seen a Jap suicide pilot crash dive his plane into a ship in the harbor and have seen more anti-aircraft fire than I thought there was in the whole Army. No more cracked eggs for Lester Green, poultryman. Instead of feeding his hens oyster shells to provide lime, he feeds them plastic pills. The hens lay eggs with cellophane shells. See Lester. "With everything coming wrapped in cellophane I got to think it would save the poultryman a lot of money if eggs came that way, too. So plastic pills was the answer. No broken eggs means money for more and bigger War Bonds."

Haven't had a drink for so long that I would get woozy if I smelled a bar rag. The progress made here since the invasion day is almost unbelievable. Roads are everywhere and they say there is more traffic here day and night than here now than was at Pearl Harbor nine months after the bombing there. There is more traffic here day and night than at Five Corners in Atlanta at five o'clock in the afternoon. We are operating thirty trucks around the clock. We are about ten miles from the front lines and I have been up there once so far. Several days ago saw what was probably the biggest artillery barrage of the Pacific war."

Local Club Given War Bonds

The Belle Glade Lions club is feeling pretty proud over its making the record of being the best club in the South Florida district, in a membership and attendance contest. In addition to this distinction the club was also awarded by overman and deputy district governor their special award prizes, in the form of three $25 war bonds, which have been added to the treasury funds. The club welcomes Rupter Mock of the Pahokee club as its new district deputy.

Deceptive Farm Profits
Declaring that the nation's wartime food policy is at a crossroads, Fred H. Sexauer, president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, says the course adopted in the next few weeks will determine how much food people will have in 1946 and possibly 1947.

"The food production of war materials has been attained by incentive to workers, but the same incentive is denied farmers. Fair prices to farmers, and adoption of recommendations made by farm organizations at the beginning of the war would have avoided much of the present and prospective food shortage."

"To avoid severe food shortages in the months ahead OPA should immediately revise its whole approach to the food problem."

"A sound, free economy in this nation can rest only upon a prosperous agriculture and active manufacturing. This requires a fair price level for farm products."

YOUR FREEDOM OR YOUR SHIRT

Pressure from the folks back home has resulted in a neat program. War Mobilization and Reconversion Director Vinson, in consultation with the OPA, WPA, OES, the Army and the Defense Supplies Corporation, has made recommendations which revolve around increased subsidies, while price ceilings remain untouched.

How long his method of taxing people to pay for their food, can hold the lid on prices which the consumer should rightfully pay to meet the cost of production, remains to be seen. The Senate Agricultural committee, in its report on the meat situation and the government agencies handling the same, finds that the past policy of the agencies which discouraged the feeding of cattle, has contributed to meat shortages and states:

"The way to stimulate the feeder to place cattle on feed, until they are finished is to give him a price sufficient to do the job and to earn a reasonable profit."

This nation must soon decide how far it will go with a government "planned economy." You can't long mix it and free economy, one or the other must eventually give away.

Under a planned economy we will eventually lose our freedom of action; under free competition we might lose our shirt temporarily, but still have a chance to recover it. Higher subsidies are just another form of inflation via the tax route.

COMMON SENSE

One of the most sensible outlines for a postwar policy to protect the United States from the menace of inflation has been presented by Harley L. Lutz, Professor of Public Finance of Princeton University. He says that a program that would do most to maintain confidence in the stability of purchasing power should embrace the following:

1. A moderate budget financed on a cash basis. This would stop credit inflation at its source.

2. Taxation at a level sufficient to cover the budget and provide for some debt retirement. No country ever had a wild commodity price inflation while its budget was in balance and its debt was being reduced.

3. Repeal of all legislation and such as further devaluation of the dollar, the issue of greenbacks, the dilution of bank reserves, and other inflationary devices.

4. A green light to private enterprise to proceed with civilian production as promptly after the termination of war contracts as reconversion will permit. The early prospect of a reasonably adequate supply of goods will go far to prevent crowding and jostling to get them.

A definite assurance that their liquid savings will not be evaporated by foolish public spending, borrowing, and further credit inflation will make the people much more disposed to walk than run to the exit.

AMERICANS CHANGE THEIR FACES

When this global war broke out there was a new thing to the present generation of American citizens, and it was a novelty which had no end. Few if any had any idea to what the entrance into the war as an ally of the European nations or to what extent it might go really meant to this nation and its people.

But when the men began to leave our homes, our farms, our factories, and the various walks of life, we began to wake up to the seriousness of war. It took a Pearl Harbor incident to set us boiling and on a war edge. The government's call for industrial war time production for war time goods and materials reacted like a rank weed after a rain.

Factories were expanded and new ones built, millions of workers flocked to these plants to turn out the instruments of war of every nature and character, for the air, army, navy coast guards and marines. The ability and power of America to produce supplies and labor, from unexpected sources, made us the arsenal for the allied nations, while we ourselves were fighting a dual war in the Atlantic and Pacific areas. Snobbishness was the rule of civilians toward the

Methodists To Have Vacation Bible School

As has been the custom for a number of years past, the Community Methodist church will conduct a Vacation Bible school, which will open on Monday, July 9. The school will be open to all the children of the city, and the sponsors are planning on making the school the best yet held. Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Jamison who will lead the faculty, will be assisted by a competent corps of assistant instructors.

Go Out For Exercise

The Big Cypress forest is a favorite spot for Buzz Granger and Joe Cherry, where their friends say they go to take much needed recreational workouts. These men made one of their trips over the week end, accompanied by a group of youngsters, namely the Cherry, Beardon and Harris boys. While in camp the boys shot many rabbits, caught some fine bass and other fish, and two huge turtles, which augmented by home food, made a fine table menu during the stay. One of the attractions of the region visited by Rock Lake, and it was from its head, that the fish and big turtles were caught. This lake is a deep one, from 50 to 75 feet deep, but the drought has caused it to sink at six feet from normal water stage.

The capacity of the State Livestock Market at Avondale is being doubled and when improvements are completed it will be the largest and best equipped livestock market in the state, according to Mr. William L. Wilson, director of State Farmers Markets.

AFTER YOUR TRUCK has been through our shop you can tell by the way it runs that our treatment is good and thorough. It takes men who know all about motor trucks to make expert repairs. Our mechanics qualify for this important work. And they're hard at it these days doing all they can to keep more trucks rolling.

Your truck also appreciates good replacement parts. We sell the best—genuine International parts that are identical with the original parts built into International Trucks at the factories. Order your parts now from our big stock.

New trucks will be scarce for some time to come. A few will be available in this community for essential civilian handling. We will be glad to help you make out the necessary application. But the big thing is to keep your present equipment in the best possible shape. That's the important job we'll do for you whenever you say.

TWO REGIONAL FAVORITES TO GRACE YOUR TABLE

EGGPLANT ST. AUGUSTINE

RECIPE

Wash and halve lengthwise one pointed eggplant. Put it in cold water and par-boil for 15 minutes or until tender. Take out of water and cool. Carefully scoop out the soft meat of the plant, being sure to leave a thick shell. Chop the meat of the eggplant in a food chopper. Put the meat of the eggplant in a cup. Add 1 cup of chopped onion. Add 1 cup of chopped tomato. Add 1 cup of chopped meat. Add 1 cup of chopped eggplant. Add 1 cup of bread crumbs. Cook for 5 minutes. Put the meat with this stuffing into the eggplant. Bake in 400° F. oven for about 20 minutes. Serve with cold rice.

Send us your favorite regional recipe. When printed we will gladly acknowledge your source.

-and a bottle of taste-tempting JAX Beer

Regional is the word...when it comes to food or beer! Here in the Southeast, we have definite tastes. Eggplant St. Augustine reflects our liking for simple foods which must, however, be perfectly seasoned and served with distinction. It's like that with JAX Beer, too, for the brewers of golden, mellow JAX have evolved a great regional brew...distinctive in flavor, and reflecting the character of our beloved Southeast!

Pour a frosty glass of this distinctive regional brew. Notice how pleasantly tempting it is! For thirst-quenching goodness...accompanying a meal, or alone...JAX is a grand brew, recommended for those who enjoy the best our region offers!

Say JAX! you can't buy better beer at any price!

preclude penalization of the consumer.

As representing considerably more than fifty per cent of the acreage and tonnage of vegetables produced in Florida, the Florida Vegetable committee has been in close touch with tariff legislation affecting the industry and has been particularly concerned with the thousands of competition made possible by war-time reduction of duties on vegetables from Cuba and Mexico to 25 per cent of former levels.

There is now being produced in Florida nearly 80,000 carloads of vegetables annually, a factor of outstanding importance in the problem of feeding the people of the United States.

LaMonte Gray, manager of the Florida Vegetable committee, pointed out that after years of effort and more than 100 different types of meetings, tariff commission hearings, congressional committee sessions, etc., a duty was imposed on foreign-produced vegetables coming into the United States.

"That duty was not prohibitive, but was intended to partially equalize the difference in the costs of production and delivery to the markets of the United States, between foreign and our domestic producer in Florida," Gray explained. "Mind you, the consumer has never been penalized by the imposition of this duty because the items of vegetables are highly perishable and must move quickly into consumption. Consequently, the price cannot be fixed on them."

"The growers in Florida know that Cuba and Mexico can produce anything we grow in Florida and do it cheaper because of cheap labor, cheap transportation, little or no fertilizer, etc. American capital, according to the tariff commission reports, is financing 60 per cent of this foreign production and is exploiting the domestic markets of the United States at the expense of Florida and other winter vegetable growers.

"In 1933, the first trade treaty act was passed and carried with it the authority of the president to reduce all existing duties as much as 50 per cent. This has been done in the instance of most vegetables now produced in Florida, and the new bill just passed in Congress authorizes a further reduction of 50 per cent. Therefore, the foreign producer has a very great advantage over the domestic producer who pays American labor rates and taxes to maintain his government, buys American-made products fully and yet is called upon to face this sort of competition. The Florida grower thinks this is not true reciprocity.

"The Florida grower is not unmindful that adjustments of trade and economic conditions and duties when all angles are properly considered, are beneficial to the nation as a whole. He believes in the Good Neighbor policy but it neither sounds nor Good Neighbor policy to extend such unfair advantages to the producers of vegetables in these countries at the cost of the domestic grower."

According to figures tabulated at the office of the Florida Vegetable committee from government reports, Mexico, since November 1 this season, shipped 7,708 cars of tomatoes, enough for a trainload 77 miles long. Tomato production in Mexico now is estimated to be $41.75 per acre as against nearly $200 per acre in Florida. Florida vegetable workers now receive $5 and upward per day, in Cuba up to $1.60 per day and in Mexico 50 cents to one dollar per day.

"Florida growers," Stuckey said, "do not bear fair competition, as they can produce as efficiently as any, but their cost is higher. The Florida grower has never asked for anything but a duty that would equalize him with the foreign producer. He realizes that immediately the war is over an transportation becomes normal, he is in a most unfair position with reduced duty rates applying to imports from Cuba and Mexico. It is a condition under which he cannot hope to survive, and unless he goes out of existence as a major industry, one of the backbone industries of Florida."

Before voting against the reciprocal trade treaty act in its final form, Congressmen Cannon, Peterson and Rogers tried to amend the proposed legislation to require that no duty be lower than the difference in cost of production between domestic and foreign producers. Their amendments were defeated, and the act was passed over their negative votes.

Home Demonstration Club Has Meeting

The Woman's Home Demonstration Club met at the Woman's Club Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Thomas Breger presiding. Mrs. J. I. Fredlund reported on the nomination committee and the slate of officers presented was elected for the ensuing year. Mrs. W. T. Elder, president. Mrs. G. J. Barstow, vice-president and Mrs. R. S. Burr, secretary and treasurer.

The president announced a special collection among members to secure funds to pay outstanding bills and replenish the treasury. Each member contributed a dollar which leaves the treasury in excellent condition for the new year.

The next meeting will be on July 19 with Mrs. Breger and Mrs. M. M. Sabiston as hostesses.

Miss Martha Nil Housman, county home demonstration agent, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Lee of West Palm Beach, presented a demonstration of stencil painting for decoration of household linens and clothing. Each of the members present had the privilege of decorating a piece of linen. Lunch on cloths, table runners, table mats and curtains were the favorite pieces on which members worked and many lovely decorated pieces were finished during the afternoon.

Mrs. B. Q. Waddell and Mrs. C. C. McDonald served the hostesses for the afternoon and served assorted cookies and iced drink to Mrs. Roy Barr, Mrs. M. M. Sabiston, Mrs. Mary Jane White, Mrs. G. J. Barstow, Mrs. H. C. Willis, Mrs. F. W. Mutchler, Mrs. Elaine Woolley, Mrs. J. I. Fredlund, Mrs. N. T. Nielson, Mrs. Thomas Breger and Mrs. H. O. Earwood.

ment for seedbeds tractors or other special work. Those whom local arms want to keep are trained in the jobs and want to stay and to take them away will disorganize the work in cases disastrously. Another thing, the local labor wants to travel come summer and he isn't so enthusiastic about working here. He's got to take that trip. Another thing the General hasn't told us how to make him work more than two or three days per week and he has the Bahamian this area has sent out more than 8,000 farm laborers for northern fields since May 1st and might explain a shortage here now.

Louis P. Gold, formerly of Patuxent, and well known to Glades theater patrons, has again been decorated with the oak leaf cluster, and has also been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant. Louis has been in the service for more than four years and is serving in the European sector, and has hopes of getting home in the near future.

Small LaBelle Cyclone

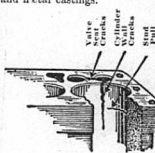

A small cyclone struck west of LaBelle Sunday afternoon, and as result the house of County Commissioner A. J. Evans was partially destroyed. The house was moved from its foundation and another building blown against it. Citrus trees were uprooted and blown across the canal in adjoining fields. The Evans family were away from home at the time.

Florida goes FORWARD!

One hundred years ago, Florida launched its state government with the opening session of the state legislature on June 20. In the century since, Florida's population has leaped from less than 100,000 to more than 2,000,000. Her people have fashioned an economy firmly based on nature's bountiful gifts of insalubrious climate and a variety of fruitful soils. This year, looking back, we are filled with pride at the progress of our state. We pay tribute to the vision and courage of thousands of men and women of whom Ditch, Plant and Pledge are typical. They staked their all on their belief in Florida. Florida today is a miracle to behold.

And again, this year, looking forward, we the people of this state cross the threshold of the future determined that we shall leave nothing undone which shall continue to bring to our state millions of visitors to enjoy her climate and recreation facilities. We are determined, too, to bring about a great future of business prosperity, substantial industrial factories, farms, groves and happy, prosperous homes.

We, collectively, as citizens of Florida, are proud to coordinate our efforts with our state's promotional program to develop the economy more rapidly.

Automatically Changes its "Weight" to Suit the Job

We hear through the unofficial underground that we will be assigned some of the new FORD tractors as well as the implements, at some early date.

We are quite sure these things will come along, and we hope soon, and suggest that you look over the implements and place your orders as soon as possible.

Fordson-Ferguson will have many items adaptable to this territory and will have three sizes of the tractor.

Drop in and see us.

HOT ENOUGH FOR YOU?

"Searcher today, wasn't it? Hard on even us oldtime Floridians with lots of sand in our shoes!"

"Kind of makes a fellow long for Air Conditioning... especially indoors these hot days and nights."

Some scientist has it figured that we spend around 18 out of every 24 hours inside... eating, sleeping, working. It'd be mighty fine if every shop, office and house had Air Conditioning, wouldn't it?"

Brother, you've got the right idea! And come final Victory, most shops, offices, houses and hotels will be Air Conditioned!

Many South Florida property owners, with their architects and consulting engineers, are discussing their Air Conditioning needs now with Belcher's staff of temperature-control engineers.

And they're making deposits now on Carrier Air Conditioning for priority delivery as soon as possible after Victory. Carrier—is the system which provides clean, evenly distributed draughtless air of precisely controlled temperature and humidity... day in and day out, summer and winter!
